

The background of the entire cover is a deep space scene. It features a dark blue and black sky filled with numerous small, distant stars. Several larger, more prominent stars are visible, each with a bright white core and a multi-pointed diffraction pattern. In the upper left and lower left corners, there are wispy, glowing nebulae in shades of blue and purple. A large, dark, curved shape, possibly the horizon of a planet or a distant galaxy, arches across the lower half of the image. A brilliant, multi-colored starburst or supernova-like event is centered in the lower half, just above the publisher's name, emitting a wide spectrum of light rays in white, yellow, orange, and red.
